

WANTED:

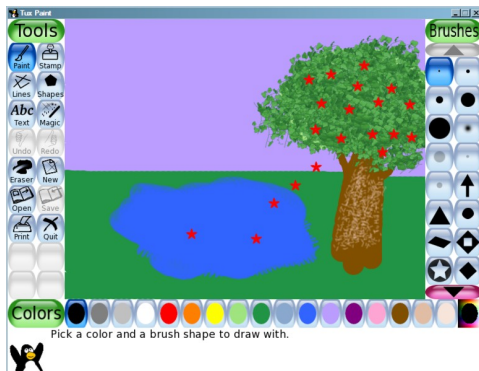

Educators • Parents
Artists • Photographers
Translators

to help us improve and expand our open source children's software

Tux Paint is an award-winning paint program for young children. It runs on Windows, Mac OS X and Linux, and has been (at least partially) translated to over 80 languages.

We need: more art (photographed, drawn, or extracted from free archives, such as Wikipedia), better and improved localization, people who can suggest improvements or search for bugs, and classroom curricula that we can share with educators... among other things!
